I have spent my entire career helping victims of asbestos exposure and other toxic torts and their families obtain compensation for their injuries. I joined Shepard Law as a paralegal in 2008, and have developed extensive knowledge and experience in asbestos litigation and other toxic torts. My practice includes representing victims of asbestos exposure at paper mills and utilities throughout Massachusetts. I am dedicated to getting my clients the compensation they deserve.

"Personable approach, professional attitude, and compassion made a difference."
